

Net Zero Commitment

Our Commitment

At New Vision Healthcare, we recognize that climate change is a public health crisis. As a healthcare provider, it's our responsibility to protect the health of the communities we serve—not just through care, but by reducing our environmental impact. That's why we are committing to achieving Net Zero carbon emissions by 2040.

Why It Matters

Climate change disproportionately affects vulnerable populations and worsens health inequities. By reducing our emissions, we are safeguarding the health of our customers, staff, and future generations. Sustainability is not an add-on—it's essential to our mission of delivering better health outcomes.

What We're Doing:

Clean Energy

- Upgrade infrastructure with energy-efficient lighting, heating, cooling, and equipment.
- Monitor and reduce energy use with smart building technologies.

Greener Healthcare

- Cut down waste in every part of our operations.
- Provide staff incentives for carpooling, cycling, and remote work where possible.
- Work with suppliers who share our sustainability goals.
- Expand telesales and online sales to reduce unnecessary travel for customers.
- Prioritize suppliers who are transparent about their carbon footprint and actively working to reduce it.
- Work with local suppliers to cut transportation emissions and support local economies.

Smarter Transport

- Move our fleet to electric vehicles by 2035.

Climate-Ready Care

- Prepare our facilities for extreme weather and other climate risks.
- Support communities most vulnerable to climate-related health issues.

- Invest in credible carbon offset projects while we work toward zero emissions.
